BRAKEMAN IS FATALLY HURT

Joe Craig of Anderson is Knocked off Hog Chute Under Freight Train in Yards Here

LEFT LEG ALMOST SEVERED

He is Rushed to Sexton Sanatorium for Operation but his Death

BULLETIN.

At four o'clock this afternoon
Craig died at the Sexton sanatorium.
Both legs were amputated just below the hips.

Joe Craig, a Big Four brakeman,
of Anderson, was perhaps fatally injured this afternoon shortly after three o'clock when he was knocked off of a hog chute a short distance south of the Big Four station and his left leg cut almost in two.

Craig was removed to the Sexton sanatorium for the amputation of his left leg. His right leg was also bruised but it was thought amputation of it would not be necessary.

Because of the severe shock Craig sustained and because of the loss of blood, it was feared that he would not survive the operation.

Craig was a brakeman on the local freight which was switching in the yards here. Men employed at the Big Four station were rather misty
as to details of the accident. No one was aware of the accident until his cry of pain was heard and fellow trainmen rushed to his assistance.

Information concerning his condition was refused at the sanatorium late this afternoon but the opinion was expressed that his injuries
would likely result fatally.

ELKS GET READY FOR FAIR WEDNESDAY

Many Workmen Engaged in Erecting Stands and Preparing for the Attractions

TO BE DANCING ALL FOUR DAYS

Final preparations for the big Elks fair were under way today. A half hundred workmen were busy erecting the stands in the rear of the Elks home and everything will be in readiness for the opening Wednesday night.

It was announced today that an added attraction has been secured.
This added attraction is expected to be a real "killer." This show is known as Queen Lil and her troupe of Hawaiian dancers. Queen Lil will be located in a large tent back of the Cox store. The merry-go-round was scheduled to arrive this afternoon and the Elks hope to have everything running smoothly
the opening night.

The lodge room and private dance hall of the Elks will be used for dancing throughout the four days
and this is expected to be one of the big drawing cards.

TRIES TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Murderer of Two Richmond Policemen is Thwarted Today

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., July 10.—Eli S.
Carr, who shot and killed two members of the Richmond police force Saturday morning, was foiled in an attempt to commit suicide in the county jail today by the unexpected visit of Detective Burns to the prisoners cell. Carr had fixed a rope made from bedclothes to the top of his cell.

JESSE WINSHIP DIES ON BIRTHDAY

Expires From Stroke of Apoplexy on Seventy-Seventh Anniversary
of His Birth

FUNERAL SET FOR TUESDAY

Jesse Winship, 77 years old, died Sunday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock at his home, 324 West Ninth street, following a stroke of apoplexy suffered some time last Friday night.
Mr. Winship was found unconscious Saturday morning and remained in this condition to the end. Mrs.
Winship, who was in Chicago, reached the city Saturday evening and was at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. Winship was a widely known man. He was a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges.
Yesterday was his birthday and the family was preparing to observe it.
He is survived by the widow and one daughter, Mrs. Ed Geyer of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Winship also leaves one sister, two half-brothers and one half-sister. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery and will be in charge of the Masons.

Friends may call any time this

Estate of Late Daniel Brown is Disposed of to His Two Sons and Son-in-Law

HIGHEST PRICE $140 AN ACRE

One of the largest sales of real estate ever recorded in Rush county was that made Saturday when the estate of the late Daniel Brown was disposed of by the commissioners, Samuel L. Trabue and John H. Kiplinger. It was sold in three farms, two of them going to sons of the late Mr. Brown and the third to a son-in-law. The combined price was $50,625. A piece of property in Rushville belonging to the estate has not been sold.

Ray Brown purchased the home place, consisting of 140½ acres, for $140 an acre, which was the biggest price per acre paid for either of the farms. Will Brown was the buyer of 166.41 acres at $126 an acre. Will Harton was the high bidder on 81.67 acres just south of the home farm.

WATCHING FOR AN EPIDEMIC

Health Officers Warned by State Board to Guard Against Infantile Paralysis

GUARD AGAINST OUTBREAK

Rules That all Physicians are to Follow in Cases of This Disease
Are Set Forth

Physicians everywhere are taking precautions to guard against the epidemic of infantile paralysis, which has caused 224 deaths to date
in Greater New York. Several cases have been reported in Indiana in newspaper dispatches, but this condition is not unusual because physicians say that each monthly report of the state board of health for years has shown the existence of the disease in isolated cases.

The state health board has sent out letters to all health officers urging upon them the necessity of preventing an epidemic in Indiana. They are asked to get the co-operation of all physicians in their area in reporting all cases.

Rigid quarantine must be imposed
and funerals must be private, according to the instructions of the state board. The order continues that "in face of this danger, every physician should retrain himself in regard to infantile paralysis and in diagnosis make special study of each case having poliomyelitis in view.
Advise your people to give special attention to preserving the health of their children. Children must be kept well. Daily bathing, plenty of fresh air, night and day, plain food, exercise and play, plenty of sleep, attention to bowels—all these make for prevention.

"Don't fail to report to the state board."

The state board of health also sent to physicians and health officers in the state a bulletin describing what is known of the disease and such preventive measures as it is possible, with the present medical knowledge of its actions, to promulgate, and also a special circular calling attention to the law and the rules of the board.

This special circular was as follows:

Subject: "Anterior Poliomyelitis—
Infantile paralysis. Epidemic Poliomyelitis. Epidemic paralysis."

The sixty-seventh general assembly made a specific appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose of conducting an epidemiological investigation of epidemic poliomyelitis and other contagious diseases by the state board of health. In accordance with this law attention is called to the following rules passed by the state board as the basis upon which the said epidemiological investigation shall be conducted.

"Whereas, The disease known as anterior poliomyelitis is becoming more prevalent all over the country and its contagiousness being an accepted fact, therefore be it.

"Resolved, That anterior poliomyelitis shall be added to the list of diseases known as dangerous to public health and be reported to the local health officers the same as other diseases listed in Rule 10 of the state board of health, and each case reported shall be carded with a warning card and discharges from patients shall be disinfected."

For the purpose of carrying out
this law concerning the study of this disease, the following additional rules have been adopted by the state board of health:

"Rule 1. It shall be the duty of the attending physician to immediately report to the state board of health

Elevator Men Who Have Been Tra-

SAME WORD FROM FARMERS

Quality of Grain Will be Decidedly Better, Thanks to Cool Weather in Ripening

In the opinion of elevator men who have been traveling over the
threshing in Rush county before next week. The harvest is a little later than usual this year and in the estimate of many, the crop will be
from one-half to three-fourths of normal. That three-fourths of the crop is in the shock was the assertion of several farmers today.

Reports from here and there about
the county are all confirmatory of
the predictions several weeks ago, namely that the wheat would be little better than half a crop. This,
manifestly, must apply to the county as a unit. There is an occasional field of really good wheat. These are occasional only. They are probably more rare than absolute failures. So the general average is somewhere near half a crop.

There is, in the situation, one thing for which farmers and millmen are glad. The quality of the grain is decidedly better than the yield. Much of it will be rated as good, though little of it will reach the highest grading. It is as good as it is, thanks to the cool weather which came at the time of ripening.

There is little more than half a crop of straw, and it is not of the best quality. Yet it is good enough to be very far different from no straw at all.

The farmers see good prospects
for a corn crop and find their general outlook for the year such as to reconcile them, with the help of a little philosophy, to the measure of disappointment which the wheat brings to them.

ARE SHOWERED WITH FOOD AND FLOWERS

Boys of Battery B, on Way to Border, Having Fine Time, Walter

REACH BROWNSVILLE TODAY

Mrs. James Gartin has received word from her son, Walter Gartin, who is with Battery B, Indiana National Guard, on the way to the Mexican border, that the battalion of artillery, composed of Batteries A,
B, and C would probably arrive in Brownsville, Texas some time today.
It was anticipated that Brownsville would be the destination of the Indiana artillery, but the news was never given out officially.

The card was written from Cinita, Oklahoma and said that all of the Rushville boys in Battery B, were well and feeling fine. Mr. Gartin wrote that at one place along the route the train was stopped and all the guardsmen were allowed to go swimming in the river. He said that at every town along the way the soldier boys were showered with postals, flowers and food. The card said that the wheat and cattle in that section looked fine.

HITE RELEASED ON BOND

Is Free to Await Grand Jury Action
in Indianapolis

Elmer Hite, who has been held in the Marion county jail for the past three weeks in connection with the taking of two automobiles from Indianapolis, was released Sunday afternoon under $2,000 bond. Hite returned at once to this city. Harry Flodder, who was arrested with Hite, is still in jail but it is expected he will secure bond before long. Both boys were bound over to the grand jury and as the grand jury does not meet until September, they stood a chance of remaining in jail all summer.

MARSHAL FAILS TO LAND SPEEDER

Glenwood Official Has Police Catch
Motorists, But There Were 3

ONE WANTED STEERS CLEAR

The local police were asked Sunday afternoon by the marshal of Glenwood to stop an automobile and hold the driver for speeding. The marshal of Glenwood gave the police
the number of the car and in a few minutes Chief Yakey had the man.
He was holding him for Marshal
Brooks when along came another machine with the same number.

With these two drivers held things began to look interesting and then when the Glenwood Marshal arrived everything went smash as neither of the two men held was the one wanted. The three machines bearing a factory number went through Glenwood enroute from Cincinnati to Indianapolis. One of the cars was driven at a great speed. The driver wanted evidently "got wise" to what was going on and did not go through here. Brooks only saw one of the machines and that was the one alleged to have been speeding. The two drivers held here gave the marshal the laugh and said he surely
was mistaken as no one could violate the speed law on a street as rough as the one in Glenwood.

Reports of Villistas Moving Toward Texas and Carranzistas Mutiny

LIFTING OF EMBARGO PENDS

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, July 10.—Report of a large Villista force moving towards the Texas Big Bend country,
rumors of revolt in the Carranzista ranks, indications of a Villista victory south of Jimenez, and lifting
of the embargo on foodstuffs and fuel to Mexico, opened today's developments here.

Former Villistas to the number of 5,000 now in the Carranza army, are reported to have laid plans to mutiny. Information reaching here through Mexican arrivals is that leaders of the ex-Villistas held a conference with Villa envoys near Parrall and pledged support to the new rebellion.

ENDS DARE DEVIL JOURNEY TODAY

German Supersubmersible Deutsch-
land Docks Safely in Baltimore and Cargo is Unloaded

HELD NOT TO BE A WARSHIP

Customs Officials Report She is Not Even Armed Merchantman,
Having no Guns Aboard

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 10.—The German supersubmersible Deutschland is not a warship. She is not even an armed merchantman. She has no guns nor armament of any kind aboard her.

This was the report made to the treasury department shortly before noon by customs officials who boarded the submarine at Baltimore. The state department immediately was informed of the ship's status by Secretary McAdoo. The report, while preliminary, is considered definitely to establish the Deutschland's status.

Baltimore, July 10.—Out of the
decks Captain Paul Koenig brought here today the word of mouth story of the first successful crossing of the Atlantic by a commercial submarine—the giant supersubmersible Deutschland, which he says is to be followed here by others.

Supplementing a written statement, the captain this afternoon told how his vessel had lain at the bottom of the English channel one whole night; how he and his crew played the gramophone beneath the waves; how they lived on champagne
and the best of food; how they had openly sailed 3,800 miles, submerging only a few times and for a few hours and doing only 90 miles under surface during the entire trip.

His written statement announced that the "Bremen," a sister vessel, will follow the Deutschland. It declared Germany now forces the collapse of the English starvation blockade. "The gates will not be shut again," the captain's statement said.

"We went down one or two times in the North Sea for a few hours,"
said Koenig, in relating his story,
"but we traveled only 90 miles in all under the sea. We were four days in the English channel, lying on the bottom a whole night because the weather was foggy. Nobody saw us, however, and we sighted no warships, only cruisers and destroyers."

The Deutschland's giant cargo
laid in the German submarine ended her dare devil journey from Germany here early today.

Sliding her snout through the
drizzling night up the river behind a puffing tug, she put into quarantine after journeying through Chesapeake bay and docked at the specially prepared and guarded dock of the commercial shipping concern that ostensibly sponsored her voyage.

Work of discharging her dye stuff
and other merchandise that amounted to from 500 to 1,000 tons began at once when armed guards stood watch.

Customs officers conferred this morning on the status of the U-boat and though no decision was announced it is believed the Deutschland will be treated as an ordinary German merchantman.

How shall you put "news interest"
into your real estate ad? Just put the interesting facts about the property into your description of it, and you will have plenty of "news interest."

HIS ANSWER IS PEACE MESSAGE

President Wilson Replies to Col.

Roosevelt's "Call to Arms"

Speech in Detroit

Says Sovereignty of Southern Republic Shall be Respected and

Not be Exploited

(By United Press.)

Detroit, July 10.—President Wilson today answered Col. Roosevelt's spirit of militancy with a message of peace. Speaking to 3,500 people, hundreds of whom were delegates to the World's Salesmanship Congress the president said that fighting results in hatreds that ruin opportunity for progress in trade and civilization.

The people who heard Roosevelt's

"call to arms" two months ago, to-day rocked the hall with cheers for peace.

"We must respect the sovereignty of Mexico," the president said at one time. "I say this for the benefit of those who wish to butt in. Mexico feels that we do not wish to help her but to possess her. This is due to the manner in which some have tried to exploit her possessions. I will not help these men."

STOCKINGER WINS D. A. R. FIRST PRIZE

Former Rushville Teacher is Victorious in Historical Essay Contest in New York

IS VISITING AT ST. PAUL NOW

The St. Paul Telegram contains the following mention of a former teacher of Rushville:

"Prof. W. A. Stockinger, who has been attending Columbia University at New York city during the past winter, and who has been here the guest of relatives for the past several weeks received a telegram Sunday morning advising him of his winning first prize in the annual Historical Essay contest under the auspices of the National Organization of the Daughters of American Revolution. The message also stated that a nice check awaited him in

New York and besides this a medal of honor, that would be awarded by the Colonial Dames of New York state.

"The essay consisted of between 7,000 and 8,000 words on the subject, "The Place of Fur in the Growth of the American Colony," including an extended bibliography. The work on this paper was begun by Mr. Stockinger last November and the finished work was submitted to the judges May 31.

"Students of all the leading colleges of the country were invited to participate. Only four essays of the Columbia University students passed the board of judges. The paper is now the property of the National Organization of D. A. R. and will probably be published."

CARUSO MAY BE CALLED TO COLORS

Famous Tenor Belongs to Class of

'73 and Will be Called if War

Lasts Another Year.

BUSY NOW TAKING OFF WEIGHT

(By United Press.)

Florence, Italy, June 12.—(By Mail)—Should the war endure another year Enrico Caruso probably will be called to the Italian colors. The singer today is back recreating at his summer villa in the Florentine suburbs.

Caruso belongs to the class of '73

The men of '83 are under arms. Certain in-between classes even now are waiting and preparing for the call. The tenor had a touch of war on his recent voyage from America. He sailed on a French liner, which during the last day of its journey to Bordeaux, was busy avoiding German submarines.

Caruso at this moment is most concerned with the problem of reducing. He thinks he has solved it. Five pounds melted away from him in as many days. His plan is five hours of daily cross-country walking in either rain or sun. Use a march step and do not avoid hills and other obstacles. Look for them. "Do this," he says, "and you will feel like a 20-year-old."

conducted by Dr. F. R. McClanahan; and a short sermon preached by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt. The outdoor services will be continued on Sunday evening throughout the month, if the weather permits.

BUSINESS MEN IN TRAINING CAMP
Pacific Coast Merchants Play at War at Camp Established at Monterey, Cal.

WILL CONTINUE FOUR WEEKS
(By United Press.)
Monterey, July 10.—Buissness from over the state and other points on the Pacific slope assembled here today in army khaki to become student officers for a month in Uncle Sam's service.

They placed themselves under the jurisdiction of regular army officers appointed by the war department and entered the camp routine of infantry-men. This is the first civilian military training camp to be opened on the coast under government direction.

For a month the civilians will be crammed with military lore. They are to have reviews, dress-parades and camp duties, just like members of the regular army. There also will be forced marches, sham battles and maneuvers. They are to be called upon to attend lectures on military topics, study tactics and become familiar with the art of war.

At the end of four weeks the business men will leave the camp officers in the rough, much more valuable to the country in time of need than green, untrained rookies would be.
The cost to each individual participating in the encampment is nominal Uncle Sam paying most of the expenses.

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—“I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband. I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth.”—Mrs. H. L. KLENNETT, Box 85, Killingly, Conn.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Keep the City Clean.

A clean city attracts attention whenever and wherever it is seen. A dirty one catches the public eye in even less time.

When the streets and alleys and yards and vacant lots in a town are clean and sanitary it bespeaks a like condition on the part of the residents with regard to their personal habits.

If each person in Rushville would use just a little more energy and thoughtfulness we could make this one of the cleanest spots in the country and our reputation would grow apace.

A clean man works with pleasure and with a definite object in view. Generally he gets there.

The dirty onelabors from necessity only, has no ambition, and is the black eye that kills the city in the eyes of other people.

Keep Rushville clean.

Exasperating Piddling.

The government of the United States, and the people as well, are rapidly losing their patience over the exasperating piddling of Venustiano Carranza, who styles himself the first chief of the Mexican defacto government.

This man Carranza reminds one of the insignificant and bombastic fist that barks at a big dog and then backs away when there is a chance for a fight.

He has insulted and defied the United States on innumerable occasions, and yet when we show a disposition to resent his insolence he bobs up with a suggestion of compromise or mediation.

In plain and unvarnished language, we have had just about enough of Carranza and of Mexico, and it is about time for the big dog to sail in and give the piddling snapper and his horde of raga-muffs and cutthroats a sound drubbing.

Nothing else will be of the slightest avail.

There's a break in the clouds to the south of us. Perhaps even yet the sun may shine again.

Millionaires and paupers are rubbing elbows at the front. War is a great leveler of caste.

They say a cat has nine lives, but at that it is a mile in the rear of Villa.

The political campaign is making a desperate effort to get back on the first page again. Here's hoping it may.

Most women are admired for what they are, and not for what their ancestors were before them. It is not always so of men.

Some men "know everything," make a big noise, and get nowhere. Others know a few things, say little and get to the front. Take your choice.

The man who respects the rights of others experiences little difficulty in securing the consideration due himself, but the wolf generally gets his due.

William Jennings Bryan has said that he has only one plank and that is the president's, which has caused the remark in some quarters that it is evident where he got it—right on the seat of his pants.

The present congress is working on a revenue bill of $200,000,000 to pay for the Mexican crisis, which will be a rather costly crisis in view of the fact that prospects are for a continuance of said crisis unless a stable government is established in Mexico by a stronger power.

Mostly Reason.

Muncie Press: Administration newspapers persist in passing on that canned editorial that in case we go to war with Mexico while Wilson is President our guns will be primed with reason. Necessarily so. Most of the ammunition had previously been shipped to Carranza.

Violent Henry Watterson, having observed in print, "C. E. Hughes observed Independence Day quietly, as becomes the nominee of the German imperialists," the Muncie Press says that it ill becomes one who spent three or four years trying to hyphenate the American republic by shooting at the flag, to speak thus.

Current Comments

Just Plain Piffle

(Muncie Press)

The newspaper special writers having done their worst with the three national conventions, the magazine journalists are now discussing them. The ignorance manifested by nearly all of these commentators with respect to the Republican convention, especially, is astounding. The American Review of Reviews contains a particular silly story about the Chicago convention which reads as if it might have been written in Shanghai or Capetown, so completely has it missed the truth. The Republican national convention has been much maligned, particularly by the Chicago newspapers, which put up an excellent argument for holding the next Republican national convention somewhere else, so unfriendly was nearly every comment. The truth is that there never has assembled, since the Republican national convention of 1860, a body of delegates who came together with a more serious and devoted purpose to render intelligent service to their party and their country. The proof of the pudding is in the eating; when the convention assembled, the party was divided; when it adjourned, the split of 1912 had been more nearly obliterated than anyone imagined it would be two months ago and a ticket had been nominated and a platform framed that most people believe could hardly have been made stronger. The average delegate to that convention would compare favorably in intelligence, at least, with the average journalist, writing about the convention under the necessity of saying something that would attract attention. Yet these newspaper and magazine smart alecks babble of these delegates as if they were a herd of dumb, driven cattle. They were anything but that, and those who sought to stampe the convention found that the delegates were not the stampeding kind. They were there to do a big job well, and they did it.

HOARD BACON TO BOOST PRICES

Liverpool Paper Charges That Price

Would Drop if All in Storage

Would be Released.

MOST OF IT AMERICAN MADE

(By United Press.)

London, July 10.—American bacon is being hoarded in England to inflate the price to the consuming public, it is charged today by the Liverpool Post.

The paper says that if the stocks of bacon at present in storage in Liverpool were offered for sale in normal quantities the retail price would drop to between 16 and 18 cents a pound.

Good bacon now costs the average citizen 32 cents a pound. Huge quantities are being shipped to Liverpool, the story states and "they are being kept out of the market for no other reason than to send up prices.

"There are in Liverpool and Bootle (nearly) about a dozen large cold storages and practically all of these have as much bacon—chiefly American—as you can find room for. Probably as much as 75 per cent of the storage accommodation is monopolized by bacon. A reliable estimate of the number of 700-pound-boxes stored in Liverpool just now places the total at between 80,000 and 90,000 over 56,000,000 pounds, valued at more than $12,500,000 wholesale."

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.

—Creations in bathing suits that would turn a Paris modiste into seven shades of green with envy is the aquatic style introduced with a low bow and a lower neck to Atlantic City's fashionable beach by society women today. They are as gorgeous, thin and carefully fitted as a cerise stocking. The sleeves stop before they begin and the skirts very soon thereafter. That is, far above the knees. Far. This is to enable the girls to swim easily. May be one of them will try it some day.

"STANDARD OF PRACTICE"

Are Also Anxious to Know if They Are Born or Made—Big Men on the Program

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Several hundred regular, go-getter salesmen from all over the world met here today to find out whether they're born.

"Are we born or made?" is the burning question.

This is the first annual World's Salesmanship Congress. The selling brains of Europe and the Americas are here. They have for very serious consideration an international Commercial Preparedness plan calculated to protect their interests and their industries throughout the world when war sales cease. Then they expect, will come a very trying period of international commercial and industrial readjustment.

But they also are very anxious to know whether they're born. They will have experts on the point discuss it for them at length.

"Keynote" addresses of the congress, delivered at the opening session today, served to emphasize the world-wide scope of the meeting. The speakers included Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers Motor company, of Detroit; Lafe Young, of Des Moines, Iowa; Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield; Sir Thomas Lipton of London; Norval A. Hawkins, general sales manager of the Ford Motor company, of Detroit; Arthur Brisbane of New York and Gordon Selfridge, of the Selfridge stores of London, Eng.

Later sessions of the congress will be given over to departmental discussions by experts.

Purposes of the congress, as outlined today by its officers, are of wide scope. It is proposed that the Congress shall emphasize the ethics of salesmanship by adoption of "standards of practice," to be universally recognized as necessary for the maintenance of strict honesty in business. These "standards of practice" are to be formally set forth in the report of the resolutions committee, which will be submitted for adoption Thursday.

Further it proposes to contribute to the science of salesmanship through the general and technical addresses of experts; to encourage salesmanship education in schools and universities; to cause elimination of fraudulent exploiters of salesmanship doctrine; to promote "Open Forum Salesmanship Clubs" throughout the world, and to organize salesmen into an international body for their own benefit and the benefit of their firms.

tely report each and every case of epidemic poliomyelitis to the health officer having jurisdiction, giving the name, age and place of residence of the patient. Cases occurring without incorporated cities or towns should be immediately reported to the county health commissioner. Cases occurring within incorporated cities and towns shall be immediately reported to the health officers of such incorporated cities and towns.

"Rule 2. It shall be the duty of county health commissioners and all city and town health officers, whenever a case of epidemic poliomyelitis shall come to their notice, to immediately quarantine the same according to the law and the rules, and immediately report the same to the state board of health at Indianapolis by mail, telegraph, or telephone, at the expense of the state board.

"Rule 3. It shall be the further duty of all physicians and health officers to co-operate with the state board of health and with the epidemiologist of the board in the study of epidemic poliomyelitis and other contagious and infectious diseases, by giving all possible information either personally or on blanks provided for the purpose.

"Rule 4. The foregoing rules shall be given the widest possible publicity by all health officers."

SOUTHERN EDITORS OPEN CONVENTION

DISPLAYS A BIG FEATURE

(By United Press.)

Asheville, N. C., July 10.—Two hundred of the South's biggest newspaper publishers and editors will attend the Annual Convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association here today and tomorrow.

F. L. Seely, former owner of the Atlanta Georgian and W. T. Anderson of Macon, Georgia, President of the Southern Publishers Association arranged the program.

Among the notables to address the meeting are Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; William G. Shepherd, United Press War Correspondent; R. R. Whitman of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, Ralph Bingham and B. O. Dugman. During the annual banquet the publishers will listen to an address by President Wilson over the telephone.

Moving pictures of great manufacturing plants, including several of the largest publishing houses and newspaper plants in the world will be shown. The very latest in newspaper presses, linotype machines and other newspaper equipment will be exhibited during the convention. A three day golf tournament with ten trophies is a part of the program.

5,000 PRUSSIAN KILLED

(By United Press.)

London, July 10.—Five thousand of the kaiser's famous Prussian guardsmen have been killed in the fighting east of Albert, according to Paris dispatches. The German war office this evening made public an Austrian war office statement admitting a general Austrian retreat from the advanced lines in the bend of the river Styria before greatly superior Russian forces.

BAKERY CHANGES HANDS

Walla Weakley of Shelbyville, formerly of this city, has purchased the bakery of A. F. Talbert and took possession this morning. This is the same bakery formerly owned by Mr. Weakley. He will move here in a few days. Mr. Talbert has no plans for the immediate future but will probably locate in Newcastle.

ANSWER THE ALARM

Rushville People Should not Delay

If your kidneys are inflamed, Don't stand around and do nothing.

Like a fire it will soon be beyond control.

You will get the alarm in time—Backache, or dizziness or disorders of the urine.

Heed the warning.

BIRTHDAY REUNION

Mrs. Sarah Guffin and her guest, Mrs. Lucinda Guffin of Indianapolis, went to Julietta today where they were among the guests at the dinner given in honor of the 94th birthday of Mrs. Lydia Service. Mrs. Service has 5 children living and is a remarkable woman, at her advanced age, being in good health. Following the reunion, Mrs. Lucinda Guffin returned to her home.

ALL DAY AFFAIR

Mrs. George Alexander entertained several guests for dinner and supper yesterday at her home in North Perkins street. Both meals were delicious and prettily served. Nasturtiums decorated the table. During the afternoon, the guests were entertained by taking an automobile ride. Mrs. Alexander's guests were Mrs. Lucinda Guffin of Indianapolis, Mrs. Ed Wilson of Indianapolis and Mrs. Sarah Guffin of this city.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Humes gave a pretty dinner party at their home in North Harrison street yesterday at noon. Nasturtiums around which was a wreath of hollyhocks graced the center of the table, while the corners of the tablecloth were caught up with pink hollyhock blossoms. An elegant course dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Humes, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Offutt.

WITH MR. AND MRS. STRICKER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stricker of East Eighth street were host and hostess yesterday to a number of their friends from Indianapolis. After a bountiful dinner, the guests took a motor trip through Glenwood and a number of other points in the county. The guests were Mrs. Kessler and daughters, Louise and Carmen, Mr. and Mrs. John Blumberg, and son, Walter and Mr. McCann.

KENNEDY REUNION

The presence of relatives from far and near made the family reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Whipple six miles north of Connersville one of the most delightful ones in years. Entertaining the large family were Mr. and Mrs. Whipple and their three children, Dorothy, Mary and William, and their beautiful country home was an ideal setting for the affair. The dinner, which was a pitch-in affair, was eaten on the lawn in true picnic style.

Members of the family who were present were:

Charles T. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nash and daughter, Luella, Mr. and Mrs. Will Galpin and sons, John and Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williamson and sons, Thomas and Joe of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Should Be Slow Increase In Beef Output Of The Future

That hereafter there should be a slow increase in the output of beef and mutton in the range States of the West, but that this increase is likely to be accompanied by an increase in the cost of the production, are the chief conclusions of a report on "Live Stock Production in the Eleven Far Western Range States" which the Department of Agriculture has just published. This report is one of the five sections of the exhaustive report on the meat situation in the United States, in the preparation of which the Department specialists have been engaged for some time. It discusses the reasons for the long decline in meat production in the West and explains why there is reason to believe that this is now a thing of the past. In addition it includes detailed studies of the present cost of producing steers and lambs.

Between 1910 and 1914, the year in which the investigations on which the report is based were made, the numbers of live stock in the eleven States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, declined about 13 per cent. For this decline the report holds the settlement of public lands and the consequent reduction of the range primarily responsible. A number of other causes have contributed to the downward movement, but it is pointed out these have been more than offset by high prices and therefore more profitable range animals, and the general agricultural development which have favored production by leading to a more widespread adoption of the practice of winter feeding and winter pasturing on alfalfa and cultivated crops.

The prediction that this decrease hereafter will give way to an increase is based upon the belief that the amount of live stock on farms and homesteads will be greater in the future, that the stock ranges in the National Forests will continue to improve, that the carrying capacity of the stock ranges on the public domain may be increased by legal regulation, and finally that high prices of range animals and better methods will result in a more efficient utilization of the available forage, or, in other words, a greater production per unit of forage.

In 1914 it was estimated that no more than 30 per cent of the new settlers had more live stock than was necessary to supply them with work and milk animals. The situation in this respect, however, was changing even then, and the movement for the production of more live stock may be expected to continue because both market and agricultural conditions make this indispensable to really successful farming. The change will be gradual it is said, and only a few head of stock will be added to a farm, but ultimately and in the aggregate the increase will be greater than that which is likely to be accomplished in any other way. The problem for the States and the National Government, it is said, is to aid in the change by working out a system which will make such agriculture profitable.

In addition to this increase in the numbers of farm stock, there is little doubt that the carrying capacity of the existing ranges can be greatly enlarged. This has been demonstrated in the National Forests where improved methods and regulation have increased the capacity of many ranges from 15 to 30 per cent. This process should continue for at least ten years more and should result in building up the carrying capacity of the National Forests as a whole by perhaps 15 per cent.

If similar control could be exercised over the public domain outside of the Forests, it is estimated that the capacity of these ranges could be increased about 30 per cent. About half of this would result from the improvement in the range itself after overstocking and premature grazing were prevented and natural reseeding facilitated. The remainder would follow water development, the construction of fences and the introduction of methods of handling stock which are out of the question as long as the improvement of conditions on the range merely provides an incentive for new men to crowd in and undo by overstocking what ever good has been accomplished. The carrying capacity of these ranges has greatly diminished in the past and under the present system there is no reason for supposing that it will increase in the future.

Other factors, though of less importance, that should tend to increase the future production of live stock are greater economy in the use of forage both on the range and on the farm, the use of more and higher grade bulls and better management of the breeding animals through the year. The last two, it is said, offer the possibility of increasing the calf crop five or ten per cent and the average weight of a two-year-old steer perhaps thirty pounds.

Where winter feeding is practiced it is believed that a yearling steer will cost approximately $30 and a two-year-old $45. In the range sections of the Southwest, on the other hand, the costs may be estimated at from $15 to $19 for a yearling and from $20 to $25 for a two-year-old. With sheep there is a similar variation. In California the cost of producing a lamb is placed at $1.55, in the Southwest at $1.71 and in the Northwest at $1.82. In considering these figures, it must be remembered that they all may be materially altered by increasing or diminishing the percentages of births in the herds and flocks. Better methods, it is pointed out, will almost certainly increase the calf and lamb crops and in this way reduce the cost of production per head.

In estimating these costs the investigators charged against the stock the market value, in the vicinity, of all the feed consumed. In this way the necessity of considering the money invested in land and equipment was eliminated but, on the other hand, allowing the stock owner a profit on the feed increases somewhat the estimated cost of producing animals. As the owner might not get his profit on the feed if he did not raise stock to utilize it, the actual profits in stock raising are probably somewhat greater than the difference between the market price of the animals and the report's estimates of the cost of production.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

QUALITY OR PRICE

Which should you consider when you let a contract for painting? Quality means maximum protection for the greatest possible period of paint durability. Low prices—well, look at the cracking and scaling paint on houses where the owner considered price before quality, and you can judge for yourself.

Former Huntington. County Man, Just Back, Declares Protectorate is Necessary.

Pays Dollar For a Sandwich and
a Refuge Boat.

Huntington, Ind., July 10—W. D. Hasenfus has returned to Huntington after spending about six months at Tampico, Mex., as a superintendent of an oil lease belonging to a New York company. Mr. Hasenfus was forced to leave Mexico because of the strained relations that country has had with the United States during the last few weeks.

In commenting on the Mexican situation, the former Huntington county man said:

"The only way that Mexico can ever be restored to a peaceable state is for the United States to go in and clear the entire country of bandits and establish a protectorate."

He also said that the Mexican farmers and peasants have no protection for their crops. They sometimes get a good harvest ready and an army of bandits will take or destroy it.

When Mr. Hasenfus left Tampico there were large numbers of Mexicans in that locality starving. He said they were a peaceable set of people and disliked to see the American oil men leave because they knew that their departure meant the closing of a camp and the shutting off of supplies. Their existence depended entirely on the supplies obtained from the Americans for work done in the oil fields.

The trip from Vera Cruz to Galveston, Tex., was made on an oil tank steamer. There were on board the steamer a little more than 1,000 refugees who had hurried to get out of Mexico. The small ship was so crowded that the passengers were compelled to sleep on the decks and at any place they could find. The trip took six days because of quarantine and other difficulties which occurred after leaving Vera Cruz.

In an effort to make a little "easy money," the owners of the vessel charged the passengers $1 for sandwiches and fifty cents for a cup of coffee. There were several wealthy men on board and they had to get in line at meal time the same as any of the other passengers.

When the Americans arrived at Galveston they were completely worn out and almost as starved as the Mexicans they had left behind. practically every one of them rushed for dairy lunches and restaurants to get a "good square meal." The clothing stores in Galveston also had a rush in business immediately on the arrival of the oil steamer carrying the 1,000 or more Americans.

Mr. Hasenfus came to Huntington soon after arriving in Galveston. He stopped here long enough to see his relatives and then went to New York in connection with his business affairs. He said, before leaving, that he thought he would be able to return to Mexico before long because of the way the relations between the two countries have begun to clear.

The Huntington county man left property at Tampico and the company he worked for has about 10,000 acres of oil land as well as other property at that place which is left almost without protection. About twenty-five Americans remained, though they would be of little protection to the property should the Mexicans become hostile toward the United States.

"Though the Mexicans of Tampico and territory near there are peaceable and have shown little hatred for Americans, they are easily excited and would fight rather than permit the United States to establish an army in their country," said the oil man. "They are also an easy-going race of people, never thinking much of the future. For example, when

Milroy is in gala attire for the annual chautauqua, which opened last Saturday afternoon. Every house and business store in the city is decorated, greatly to the admiration of visitors, showing that the people of Milroy are wide awake to the advantages of the chautauqua. Many from this city attended the opening sessions and the programs of Sunday.

The Sunday attendance was the largest the chautauqua ever enjoyed and the programs were said to have been up to the standard of those offered anywhere. Yesterday afternoon's program included a concert by the Elmer Crawford Adams company of Boston and a lecture by Robert Rieman on the subject "Music, Its Yesterdays and Tomorrows."

Last night's program consisted of a prelude by the Adams company and the presentation of the play, "Mary Magdalene," by the Boston Comedy Players. The musical program was varied by Mr. Adams playing any selection on the violin asked for by the audience.

BRAKEMAN IS FATALLY HURT

Joe Craig of Anderson is Knocked

He is Rushed to Sexton Sanatorium

BULLETIN.

At four o'clock this afternoon
Craig died at the Sexton sanatorium.
Both legs were amputated just below
the hips.

Joe Craig, a Big Four brakeman,
of Anderson, was perhaps fatally
injured this afternoon shortly after
three o'clock when he was knocked
off of a hog chute a short distance
his left leg cut almost in two.

his left leg. His right leg was also bruised but it was thought amputation of it would not be necessary.

Because of the severe shock Craig
sustained and because of the loss of blood, it was feared that he would
not survive the operation.

yards here. Men employed at the Big Four station were rather misty
as to details of the accident. No
his cry of pain was heard and fellow trainmen rushed to his assistance.

Information concerning his condition was refused at the sanatorium
late this afternoon but the opinion
was expressed that his injuries

Many Workmen Engaged in Erecting Stands and Preparing for the

Final preparations for the big
half hundred workmen were busy
erecting the stands in the rear of the
readiness for the opening Wednesday night.

It was announced today that an
added attraction has been secured.
This added attraction is expected to be a real "killer." This show is known as Queen Lil and her troupe
of Hawaiian dancers. Queen Lil
will be located in a large tent back of the Cox store. The merry-go-round was scheduled to arrive this afternoon and the Elks hope to have everything running smoothly
the opening night.

The lodge room and private dance
hall of the Elks will be used for
dancing throughout the four days
and this is expected to be one of the big drawing cards.

Seventy-Seventh Anniversary
of His Birth

Jesse Winship, 77 years old, died Sunday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock at
his home, 324 West Ninth street,
following a stroke of apoplexy suffered some time last Friday night.
Mr. Winship was found unconscious Saturday morning and remained in this condition to the end. Mrs.
Winship, who was in Chicago, reached the city Saturday evening and
came.

Mr. Winship was a widely known
man. He was a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges.
Yesterday was his birthday and the
family was preparing to observe it.
He is survived by the widow and one
daughter, Mrs. Ed Geyer of Washington, D. C. Mr. Winship also leaves one sister, two half-brothers
and one half-sister. The funeral
afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the
late residence by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery and will be in charge of the Masons.

Friends may call any time this

Estate of Late Daniel Brown is Disposed of to His Two Sons
and Son-in-Law

One of the largest sales of real estate ever recorded in Rush county
was that made Saturday when the estate of the late Daniel Brown was
disposed of by the commissioners,
Samuel L. Trabue and John H. Kip-
linger. It was sold in three farms,
two of them going to sons of the late
Mr. Brown and the third to a son-
in-law. The combined price was $50,625. A piece of property in Rushville belonging to the estate has not been sold.

place, consisting of 140 1/2 acres, for $140 an acre, which was the biggest
price per acre paid for either of the farms. Will Brown was the buyer of 166.41 acres at $126 an acre. Will Horton was the high bidder on 81.67
acres just south of the home farm.

WATCHING FOR AN EPIDEMIC

Health Officers Warned by State Board to Guard Against In-
fantile Paralysis

GUARD AGAINST OUTBREAK

Rules That all Physicians are to Follow in Cases of This Disease
Are Set Forth

Physicians everywhere are taking
precautions to guard against the
epidemic of infantile paralysis,
which has caused 324 deaths to date
in Greater New York. Several cases have been reported in Indiana in
newspaper dispatches, but this condition is not unusual because physicians say that each monthly report
years has shown the existence of the disease in isolated cases.

The state health board has sent
out letters to all health officers urging upon them the necessity of pre-
are asked to get the co-operation of
all physicians in their area in reporting all cases.

Rigid quarantine must be imposed
and funerals must be private, according to the instructions of the state board. The order continues
physician should reinform himself in
diagnosis make special study of each
case having poliomyelitis in view.
kept well. Daily bathing, plenty of fresh air, night and day, plain
sleep, attention to bowels—all these
make for prevention.

"Don't fail to report to the state board."

The state board of health also
sent to physicians and health officers in the state a bulletin describ-
possible, with the present medical
knowledge of its actions, to promul-
gate, and also a special circular
calling attention to the law and the rules of the board.

This special circular was as follows:

Infantile paralysis. Epidemic Poliomyelitis. Epidemic paralysis."

The sixty-seventh general assembly made a specific appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose of conducting an epidemiological investigation
of epidemic poliomyelitis and other
this law attention is called to the
board as the basis upon which the
said epidemiological investigation
shall be conducted.

anterior poliomyelitis is becoming more prevalent all over the country
and its contagiousness being an accepted fact, therefore be it.

"Resolved, That anterior poliomyelitis shall be added to the list of
diseases known as dangerous to
local health officers the same as other diseases listed in Rule 10 of the state board of health, and each case
reported shall be carded with a warning card and discharges from
patients shall be disinfected."

For the purpose of carrying out
disease, the following additional
rules have been adopted by the state
board of health:

the attending physician to immediately report to the local health officer every case of anterior poliomyelitis which he may observe."

SAME WORD FROM FARMERS

Quality of Grain Will be Decidedly Better, Thanks to Cool Weather in Ripening

who have been traveling over the
week. The harvest is a little later than usual this year and in the es-
from one-half to three-fourths of
normal. That three-fourths of the crop is in the shock was the assertion of several farmers today.

the county are all confirmatory of
the predictions several weeks ago,
namely that the wheat would be little better than half a crop. This,
manifestly, must apply to the county
as a unit. There is an occasional
field of really good wheat. These
are occasional only. They are probably more rare than absolute failures. So the general average is somewhere near half a crop.

There is, in the situation, one thing for which farmers and mill men are glad. The quality of the grain is decidedly better than the
yield. Much of it will be rated as
the highest grading. It is as good as it is, thanks to the cool weather
which came at the time of ripening.

There is little more than half a
best quality. Yet it is good enough
straw at all.

The farmers see good prospects
for a corn crop and find their general outlook for the year such as to
little philosophy, to the measure of
disappointment which the wheat

Mrs. James Gartin has received word from her son, Walter Gartin,
who is with Battery B, Indiana National Guard, on the way to the Mexican border, that the battalion of artillery, composed of Batteries A,
B, and C would probably arrive in
Brownsville, Texas some time today.
It was anticipated that Brownsville
would be the destination of the Indiana artillery, but the news was
never given out officially.

The card was written from Cinjita, Oklahoma and said that all of the Rushville boys in Battery B, were
wrote that at one place along the
the guardsmen were allowed to go
soldier boys were showered with
postals, flowers and food. The card said that the wheat and cattle in

HITE RELEASED ON BOND

Is Free to Await Grand Jury Action
in Indianapolis

Elmer Hite, who has been held in the Marion county jail for the past
taking of two automobiles from Indianapolis, was released Sunday afternoon under $2,000 bond. Hite returned at once to this city. Harry Flodder, who was arrested with Hite,
is still in jail but it is expected he
boys were bound over to the grand jury and as the grand jury does not
meet until September, they stood a chance of remaining in jail all summer.

Motorists, But There Were 3

ONE WANTED STEERS CLEAR

The local police were asked Sunday afternoon by the marshal of
hold the driver for speeding. The
marshal of Glenwood gave the police
the number of the car and in a few minutes Chief Yakey had the man.
He was holding him for Marshal
Brooks when along came another
machine with the same number.

With these two drivers held things
began to look interesting and then when the Glenwood Marshal arrived
everything went smash as neither of
the two men held was the one wanted. The three machines bearing a factory number went through Glen-
wood enroute from Cincinnati to Indianapolis. One of the cars was driven at a great speed. The driver wanted evidently "got wise" to what
here. Brooks only saw one of the machines and that was the one al-
two drivers held here gave the marshal the laugh and said he surely
was mistaken as no one could vio-
late the speed law on a street as

LIFTING OF EMBARGO PENDS

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, July 10.—Report
of a large Villista force moving towards the Texas Big Bend country,
rumors of revolt in the Carranzista
ranks, indications of a Villista
victory south of Jimenez, and lifting
of the embargo on foodstuffs and
velopments here.

Former Villistas to the number of 5,000 now in the Carranza army,
are reported to have laid plans to mutiny. Information reaching here through Mexican arrivals is that
conference with Villa envoys near Parral and pledged support to the new rebellion.

ENDS DARE DEVIL JOURNEY TODAY

land Docks Safely in Balti-

HELD NOT TO BE A WARSHIP

Customs Officials Report She is Not

(By United Press.)

German supersubmersible Deutschland is not a warship. She
is not even an armed merchantman. She has no guns nor armament of any kind aboard
her.

This was the report made to
the treasury department shortly
before noon by customs officials
who boarded the submarine at Baltimore. The state department immediately was informed of the ship's status by Secretary McAdoo. The report, while preliminary, is considered definitely to establish the Deutschland's status.

decks Captain Paul Koenig brought
here today the word of mouth story
of the first successful crossing of
the Atlantic by a commercial submarine—the giant supersubmersible Deutschland, which he says is to be followed here by others.

Supplementing a written statement, the captain this afternoon told
how his vessel had lain at the bottom of the English channel one
whole night; how he and his crew
played the gramophone beneath the
waves; how they lived on champagne
and the best of food; how they had
openly sailed 3,800 miles, submerging only a few times and for a few hours and doing only 90 miles under surface during the entire trip.

His written statement announced
that the "Bremen," a sister vessel,
will follow the Deutschland. It declared Germany now forces "the
collapse of the English starvation
blockade. The gates will not be shut
again," the captain's statement said.

"We went down one or two times
in the North Sea for a few hours,"
said Koenig, in relating his story,
"but we traveled only 90 miles in
all under the sea. We were four days in the English channel, lying on
the bottom a whole night because
the weather was foggy. Nobody saw
us, however, and we sighted no warships, only cruisers and destroyers.
The Deutschland's giant cargo
laid in the German submarine ended
her dare devil journey from Germany
here early today.

Sliding her snout through the
drizzling night up the river behind a puffing tug, she put into quarantine
after journeying through Chesapeake bay and docked at the specially
prepared and guarded dock of the commercial shipping concern that
ostensibly sponsored her voyage.

Work of discharging her dye stuff
and other merchandise that amounted to from 500 to 1,000 tons began
at once when armed guards stood watch.

Customs officers conferred this morning on the status of the U-boat
and though no decision was announced it is believed the Deutsch-
land will be treated as an ordinary German merchantman.

How shall you put "news interest"
into your real estate ad? Just put
the interesting facts about the property into your description of it, and you will have plenty of "news interest."

HIS ANSWER IS PEACE MESSAGE

President Wilson Replies to Col. Roosevelt's "Call to Arms" Speech in Detroit

Says Sovereignty of Southern Republic Shall be Respected and Not be Exploited

(By United Press.)
Detroit, July 10.—President Wilson today answered Col. Roosevelt's spirit of militancy with a message of peace. Speaking to 3,500 people, hundreds of whom were delegates to the World's Salesmanship Congress, the president said that fighting results in hatreds that ruin opportunity for progress in trade and civilization.

The people who heard Roosevelt's "call to arms" two months ago, today rocked the hall with cheers for peace.

"We must respect the sovereignty of Mexico," the president said at one time. "I say this for the benefit of those who wish to butt in. Mexico feels that we do not wish to help her but to possess her. This is due to the manner in which some have tried to exploit her possessions. I will not help these men."

STOCKINGER WINS D. A. R. FIRST PRIZE

Former Rushville Teacher is Victorious in Historical Essay Contest in New York

IS VISITING AT ST. PAUL NOW

The St. Paul Telegram contains the following mention of a former teacher of Rushville:

"Prof. W. A. Stockinger, who has been attending Columbia University at New York city during the past winter, and who has been here the guest of relatives for the past several weeks received a telegram Sunday morning advising him of his winning first prize in the annual Historical Essay contest under the auspices of the National Organization of the Daughters of American Revolution. The message also stated that a nice check awaited him in New York and besides this a medal of honor, that would be awarded by the Colonial Dames of New York state.

"The essay consisted of between 7,000 and 8,000 words on the subject, 'The Place of Fur in the Growth of the American Colony,' including an extended bibliography. The work on this paper was begun by Mr. Stockinger last November and the finished work was submitted to the judges May 31.

"Students of all the leading colleges of the country were invited to participate. Only four essays of the Columbia University students passed the board of judges. The paper is now the property of the National Organization of D. A. R. and will probably be published."

SECOND WILL BE ENROUTE TONIGHT

Brigadier-General E. M. Lewis Will Accompany Fourth Unit of I. N. G. to Border

WILL THEN ASSUME COMMAND

(By United Press.)
Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., July 10.—Entrainment of the Second regiment of the Indiana National Guard began at eight o'clock this morning and before night the fourth unit of Indiana troops commanded by Colonel Thomas B. Coulter of Vincennes will be enroute to the Mexican border.

Brigadier-General Edward M. Lewis, who assumed command of the Indiana troops yesterday, will accompany the Second regiment and will take charge of all Indiana troops at the border upon his arrival there.

FINGERS BADLY MASHED

Ed Foster living on the T. A. Coleman farm, northeast of the city, sustained two badly mashed fingers on his right hand Saturday afternoon when his hand was caught in a hay fork. The fingers were badly cut and torn and according to other workmen he had a close call from losing the entire hand.

CARUSO MAY BE CALLED TO COLORS

Famous Tenor Belongs to Class of '73 and Will be Called if War Lasts Another Year.

Florence, Italy, June 12.—(By Mail)—Should the war endure another year Enrico Caruso probably will be called to the Italian colors. The singer today is back recreating at his summer villa in the Florentine suburbs.

Caruso belongs to the class of '73. The men of '83 are under arms. Caruso in-between classes even now are waiting and preparing for the call. The tenor had a touch of war on his recent voyage from America. He sailed on a French liner, which during the last day of its journey to Bordeaux, was busy avoiding German submarines.

Caruso at this moment is most concerned with the problem of reducing. He thinks he has solved it. Five pounds melted away from him in as many days. His plan is five hours of daily cross-country walking in either rain or sun. Use a march step and do not avoid hills and other obstacles. Look for them. "Do this," he says, "and you will feel like a 20-year-old."

Amusements

Pearl White, the charming and most capable star of that great Pathe serial "The Iron Claw" will be seen in the five part Gold Rooster Play "Hazel Kirke" at the Gem today. The story is of Hazel Kirke, a beautiful young girl, who saves her father's mill from foreclosure thru her friendship for Squire Rodney, her wealthy neighbor. Creighton Hale, another star of "The Iron Claw" with Bruce McRae support Miss White. Tomorrow matinee and night the second episode of "Peg O' the Ring" will be shown. Francis Ford and Grace Cunard are featured. Wednesday Annette Kellerman, the perfect woman, will be seen in that massive production "Neptune's Daughter" in eight parts. Seats are now on sale at Fox Bros.
The Princess offers the five act feature "The Yellow Streak" for the program tonight. Lionel Barrymore and Irene Howley are featured. There are many interesting scenes of New York City and life in a picturesque mining community. Mr. Barrymore plays the role of a careless wanderer with a dual personality, that of a sky-pilot among the miners, a noted highwayman and outlaw. It is said to be an inspiring drama with novel and startling situations. Tomorrow the three act drama "The Resurrection of Hollis" and the comedy "The Real Dr. Kay" will be shown. Wednesday, matinee and night the feature production "The Galley Slave" featuring Theda Bara will be offered.

Days Pickings

A marriage license was issued last Saturday to Herschall Becraft and V. Beatrice Scott.
The Cuban Specials defeated the Tigers yesterday in a baseball game by a score of 11 to 7.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church will give an exchange Saturday, July 22nd. The place for the market is yet undecided.
Word has been received here that a baby girl has been born to the wife of Curt Evans of Connersville. Mr. and Mrs. Evans are former residents of this city.
Mildred Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller sustained a broken right arm yesterday when she fell. The arm was only recently fractured and has caused the little girl great pain.
It was some fish A. L. Gary received Saturday evening from his brother Samuel Gary at Rhinelander, Wisconsin. It was a muskellunge measuring 40 inches in length and weighing 16 pounds. Mr. Gary divided with all the neighbors and then had plenty for himself.
County Superintendent George has announced that Dr. Francis Harvey Green of Westchester, Pa., has been secured for the platform manager of next year's chautauqua. Dr. Green has been here several times. He will also be one of the instructors at the teachers' institute.
The open air meeting of the combined service of the Epworth League and church service held directly east of the St. Paul's M. E. church last evening was very successful, both in attendance and interest shown. Earl Marlatt presided over the meeting; a beautiful duet was sung by Miss Louis Poe and O. P. Wamsley; a short talk was made by Miss Frances Frazee; a song service was conducted by Dr. F. R. McClanahan; and a short sermon preached by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt. The outdoor services will be continued on Sunday evening throughout the month, if the weather permits.

and entered the camp routine of infantry-men. This is the first civilian military training camp to be opened on the coast under government direction.
For a month the civilians will be crammed with military lore. They are to have reviews, dress-parades and camp duties, just like members of the regular army. There also will be forced marches, sham battles and maneuvers. They are to be called upon to attend lectures on military topics, study tactics and become familiar with the art of war.
At the end of four weeks the business men will leave the camp officers in the rough, much more valuable to the country in time of need than green, untrained rookies would be. The cost to each individual participating in the encampment is nominal. Uncle Sam paying most of the expenses.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband."

I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLENNETT, Box 85, Killingly, Conn.

Keep the City Clean.

A clean city attracts attention whenever and wherever it is seen. A dirty one catches the public eye in even less time.

When the streets and alleys and yards and vacant lots in a town are clean and sanitary it bespeaks a like condition on the part of the residents with regard to their personal habits.

If each person in Rushville would use just a little more energy and thoughtfulness we could make this one of the cleanest spots in the country and our reputation would grow apace.

A clean man works with pleasure and with a definite object in view. Generally he gets there.

The dirty one labors from necessity only, has no ambition, and is the black eye that kills the city in the eyes of other people.

Keep Rushville clean.

Exasperating Piddling.

The government of the United States, and the people as well, are rapidly losing their patience over the exasperating piddling of Venustiano Carranza, who styles himself the first chief of the Mexican defacto government.

This man Carranza reminds one of the insignificant and bombastic fist that barks at a big dog and then backs away when there is a chance for a fight.

He has insulted and defied the United States on innumerable occasions, and yet when we show a disposition to resent his insolence he bobs up with a suggestion of compromise or mediation.

In plain and unvarnished language, we have had just about enough of Carranza and of Mexico, and it is about time for the big dog, to sail in and give the piddling snapper and his horde of ragamuffins and cutthroats a sound drubbing.

Nothing else will be of the slightest avail.

There's a break in the clouds to the south of us. Perhaps even yet the sun may shine again.

Millionaires and paupers are rubbing elbows at the front. War is a great leveler of caste.

They say a cat has nine lives, but at that it is a mile in the rear of Villa.

SCRATCH PADS

We have made up another lot of scratch pads and are now on sale at the Republican office.

The political campaign is making a desperate effort to get back on the first page again. Here's hoping it may.

Most women are admired for what they are, and not for what their ancestors were before them. It is not always so of men.

The man who respects the rights of others experiences little difficulty in securing the consideration due himself, but the wolf generally gets his due.

William Jennings Bryan has said that he has only one plank and that is the president's, which has caused the remark in some quarters that it is evident where he got it—right on the seat of his pants.

The present congress is working on a revenue bill of $200,000,000 to pay for the Mexican crisis, which will be a rather costly crisis in view of the fact that prospects are for a continuance of said crisis unless a stable government is established in Mexico by a stronger power.

Mostly Reason.

Muncie Press: Administration newspapers persist in passing on that canned editorial that in case we go to war with Mexico while Wilson is President our guns will be primed with reason. Necessarily so. Most of the ammunition had previously been shipped to Carranza.

Violent Henry Watterson, having observed Independence Day quietly, as becomes the nominee of the German imperialists, the Muncie Press says that it ill becomes one who spent three or four years trying to hyphenate the American republic by shooting at the flag, to speak thus.

+++++ Current Comments +++++

Just Plain Piffle

(Muncie Press)

The newspaper special writers having done their worst with the three national conventions, the magazine journalists are now discussing them. The ignorance manifested by nearly all of these commentators with respect to the Republican convention, especially, is astounding. The American Review of Reviews contains a particular silly story about the Chicago convention which reads as if it might have been written in Shanghai or Capetown, so completely has it missed the truth. The Republican national convention has been much maligned, particularly by the Chicago newspapers, which put up an excellent argument for holding the next Republican national convention somewhere else, so unfriendly was nearly every comment. The truth is that there never has assembled, since the Republican national convention of 1860, a body of delegates who came together with a more serious and devoted purpose to render intelligent service to their party and their country. The proof of the pudding is in the eating; when the the convention assembled, the party was divided; when it adjourned, the split of 1912 had been more nearly obliterated than anyone imagined it would be. Two months ago and a ticket had been nominated and a platform framed that most people believe could hardly have been made stronger. The average delegate to that convention would compare favorably in intelligence, at least, with the average journalist, writing about the convention under the necessity of saying something that would attract attention. Yet these newspaper and magazine smart alecks babble of these delegates as if they were a herd of dumb, driven cattle. They were anything but that, and those who sought to stampede the convention found that the delegates were not the stampeding kind. They were there to do a big job well, and they did it.

HOARD BACON TO BOOST PRICES

Liverpool Paper Charges That Price Would Drop if All in Storage Would be Released.

(By United Press.)

London, July 10.—American bacon is being hoarded in England to inflate the price to the consuming public, it is charged today by the Liverpool Post.

The paper says that if the stocks of bacon at present in storage in Liverpool were offered for sale in normal quantities the retail price would drop to between 16 and 18 cents a pound.

"There are in Liverpool and Bootle (nearby) about a dozen large cold storages and practically all of these have as much bacon—chiefly American—as you can find room for. Probably as much as 75 per cent of the storage accommodation is monopolized by bacon. A reliable estimate of the number of 700-pound boxes stored in Liverpool just now places the total at between $0,000 and 90,000 over 50,000,000 pounds, valued at more than $12,500,000 wholesale."

"Oklahoma is an American territory, adjoining that of Kansas in the Northeast of Texas and its chief town has only a population of 5,000."

"STANDARD OF PRACTICE"

Are Also Anxious to Know if They Are Born or Made—Big Men
on the Program

(By United Press.)

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Several hundred regular, go-getter salesmen from all over the world met here today to find out whether they're born.

"Are we born or made?" is the burning question.

This is the first annual World's Salesmanship Congress. The selling brains of Europe and the Americas are here. They have for very serious consideration an international Commercial Preparedness plan calculated to protect their interests and their industries throughout the world when war sales cease. Then, they expect, will come a very trying period of international commercial and industrial readjustment.

But they also are very anxious to know whether they're born. They will have experts on the point discuss it for them at length.

"Keynote" addresses of the congress, delivered at the opening session today, served to emphasize the world-wide scope of the meeting. The speakers included Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers Motor company, of Detroit; Lefe Young, of Des Moines, Iowa; Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield; Sir Thomas Lipton of London; Norval A. Hawkins, general sales manager of the Ford Motor company, of Detroit; Arthur Brisbane of New York and Gordon Selfridge, of the Selfridge stores of London, Eng.

Later sessions of the congress will be given over to departmental discussions by experts.

Purposes of the congress, as outlined today by its officers, are of wide scope. It is proposed that the Congress shall emphasize the ethics of salesmanship by adoption of "standards of practice," to be universally recognized as necessary for the maintenance of strict honesty in business. These "standards of practice" are to be formally set forth in the report of the resolutions committee, which will be submitted for adoption Thursday.

Further it proposes to contribute to the science of salesmanship through the general and technical addresses of experts; to encourage salesmanship education in schools and universities; to cause elimination of fraudulent exploiters of salesmanship doctrine; to promote "Open Forum Salesmanship Clubs" throughout the world, and to organize salesmen into an international body for their own benefit and the benefit of their firms.

tely report each and every case of epidemic poliomyelitis to the health officer having jurisdiction, giving the name, age and place of residence of the patient. Cases occurring without incorporated cities or towns should be immediately reported to the county health commissioner. Cases occurring within incorporated cities and towns shall be immediately reported to the health officers of such incorporated cities and towns.

"Rule 2. It shall be the duty of county health commissioners and all city and town health officers, whenever a case of epidemic poliomyelitis shall come to their notice, to immediately quarantine the same according to the law and the rules, and immediately report the same to the state board of health at Indianapolis by mail, telegraph, or telephone, at the expense of the state board.

"Rule 3. It shall be the further duty of all physicians and health officers to co-operate with the state board of health and with the epidemiologist of the board in the study of epidemic poliomyelitis and other contagious and infectious diseases, by giving all possible information either personally or on blanks provided for the purpose.

SOUTHERN EDITORS OPEN CONVENTION

Two Hundred Publishers and Editors Will Attend Meeting at

DISPLAYS A BIG FEATURE

(By United Press.)

Asheville, N. C., July 10.—Two hundred of the South's biggest newspaper publishers and editors, will attend the Annual Convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association here today and tomorrow.

F. L. Seely, former owner of the Atlanta Georgian and W. T. Anderson of Macon, Georgia, President of the Southern Publishers Association arranged the program.

Among the notables to address the meeting are Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; William G. Shepherd, United Press War Correspondent; R. R. Whitman of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, Ralph Bingham and B. O. Digman. During the annual banquet the publishers will listen to an address by President Wilson over the telephone.

Moving pictures of great manufacturing plants, including several of the largest publishing houses and newspaper plants in the world will be shown. The very latest in newspaper presses, linotype machines and other newspaper equipment will be exhibited during the convention. A three day golf tournament with ten trophies is a part of the program.

Rushville People Should not Delay

If your kidneys are inflamed, Don't stand around and do nothing.

Like a fire it will soon be beyond control.

You will get the alarm in time—Backache, or dizziness or disorders of the urine.

Heed the warning. Give your kidneys a rest by living more carefully.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills to help stamp out the cause.

Profit by a Rushville woman's experience.

Mrs. Joseph Doll, 528 W. Fifth St., Rushville, says: "At times my back has become very weak and so lame that I had to stay in bed. It also ached intensely. My kidneys were very irregular in action. Every time I have been this way, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Court House Drug Store, and they have never failed to relieve me after taking a few boxes."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Doll had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

James Shanahan Enrolls at Plattsburg—Ft. Harrison Given Up

James Shanahan left today for Plattsburg, N. Y., where he will spend thirty days at the military training camp maintained by the government. Mr. Shanahan originally enrolled in the camp to have been at Fort Benjamin Harrison and when this was cancelled he changed his enrollment to Plattsburg. This is the third camp of the summer at Plattsburg. Shanahan is the first Rushville boy to take advantage of this military training offered by the government.

Should Be Slow Increase In Beef Output Of The Future

That hereafter there should be a slow increase in the output of beef and mutton in the range States of the West, but that this increase is likely to be accompanied by an increase in the cost of the production, are the chief conclusions of a report on "Live Stock Production in the Eleven Far Western Range States" which the Department of Agriculture has just published. This report is one of the five sections of the exhaustive report on the meat situation in the United States, in the preparation of which the Department specialists have been engaged for some time. It discusses the reasons for the long decline in meat production in the West and explains why there is reason to believe that this is now a thing of the past. In addition it includes detailed studies of the present cost of producing steers and lambs.

Between 1910 and 1914, the year in which the investigations on which the report is based were made, the numbers of live stock in the eleven States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, declined about 13 per cent. For this decline the report holds the settlement of public lands and the consequent reduction of the range primarily responsible. A number of other causes have contributed to the downward movement, but it is pointed out these have been more than offset by high prices and therefore more profitable range animals, and the general agricultural development, which have favored production by leading to a more widespread adoption of the practice of winter feeding and winter pasturing on alfalfa and cultivated crops.

The prediction that this decrease hereafter will give way to an increase is based upon the belief that the amount of live stock on farms and homesteads will be greater in the future, that the stock ranges in the National Forests will continue to improve, that the carrying capacity of the stock ranges on the public domain may be increased by legal regulation, and finally that high prices of range animals and better methods will result in a more efficient utilization of the available forage, or, in other words, a greater production per unit of forage.

In 1914 it was estimated that no more than 30 per cent of the new settlers had more live stock than was necessary to supply them with work and hitch animals. The situation in this respect, however, was changing even then, and the movement for the production of more live stock may be expected to continue because both market and agricultural conditions make this indispensable to really successful farming. The change will be gradual it is said, and only a few head of stock will be added to a farm, but ultimately and in the aggregate the increase will be greater than that which is likely to be accomplished in any other way. The problem for the States and the National Government, it is said, is to aid in the change by working out a system which will make such agriculture profitable.

In addition to this increase in the numbers of farm stock, there is little doubt that the carrying capacity of the existing ranges can be greatly enlarged. This has been demonstrated in the National Forests where improved methods and regulation have increased the capacity of many ranges from 15 to 30 per cent. This process should continue for at least ten years more and should result in building up the carrying capacity of the National Forests as a whole by perhaps 15 per cent. If similar control could be exercised over the public domain outside of the Forests, it is estimated that the capacity of these ranges could be increased about 30 per cent. About half of this would result from the improvement in the range itself after overstocking and premature grazing were prevented and natural seeding facilitated. The remainder would follow water development, the construction of fences and the introduction of methods of handling stock which are out of the question as long as the improvement of conditions on the range merely provides an incentive for new men to crowd in and undo by overstocking what ever good has been accomplished. The carrying capacity of these ranges has greatly diminished in the past and under the present system there is no reason for supposing that it will increase in the future.

Other factors, though of less importance, that should tend to increase the future production of live stock are greater economy in the use of forage both on the range and on the farm, the use of more and higher grade bulls and better management of the breeding animals through the year. The last two, it is said, offer the possibility of increasing the calf crop five or ten per cent and the average weight of a two-year-old steer perhaps thirty pounds.

Where winter feeding is practiced it is believed that a yearling steer will cost approximately $30 and a two-year-old $45. In the large sections of the Southwest, on the other hand, the costs may be estimated at from $15 to $19 for a yearling and from $20 to $25 for a two-year-old. With sheep there is a similar variation. In California the cost of producing a lamb is placed at $1.55, in the Southwest at $1.71 and in the Northwest at $1.82. In considering these figures, it must be remembered that they all may be materially altered by increasing or diminishing the percentages of births in the herds and flocks. Better methods, it is pointed out, will almost certainly increase the calf and lamb crops and in this way reduce the cost of production per head.

In estimating these costs the investigators charged against the stock the market value, in the vicinity, of all the feed consumed. In this way the necessity of considering the money invested in land and equipment was eliminated but, on the other hand, allowing the stock owner a profit on the feed increases somewhat the estimated cost of producing animals. As the owner might not get his profit on the feed if he did not raise stock to utilize it, the actual profits in stock raising are probably somewhat greater than the difference between the market price of the animals and the report's estimates of the cost of production.

WOMEN WILL SOON RULE WHITEHALL

Conscription Makes Necessary Their Employment in Government Positions Replacing Men.

ARE NOW BEING TRAINED

London, July 10.—Whitehall, Great Britain's official governmental nerve center, is soon to be ruled by women, it was announced today. With conscription enacted, steps are being taken to clear all government departments of young men eligible for military service. Women are being trained to take their places.

In exceptional cases a few governmental offices will retain their indispensable males but the latter will remain principally to train the women. Hundreds of men who have been behind their official jobs for twenty months already have been given their ten days' grace to arrange business and domestic affairs.

An official census for April elected that 1022 single military eligible were employed in the Admiralty alone; 1032 in the board of trade; 623 in the War office; 465 in the Ministry of Munitions; 145 in the Board of Education; 2302 Customs; 1780 Inland Revenue; and hundreds more in other departments in addition to the postoffice where single and married eligibles numbered 31,000.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Former Huntington County Man,
 Just Back, Declares Protectorate is Necessary.

 a Refuge Boat.

Huntington, Ind., July 10.—W. D. Hasenfus has returned to Huntington after spending about six months at Tampico, Mex., as a superintendent of an oil lease belonging to a New York company. Mr. Hasenfus was forced to leave Mexico because of the strained relations that country has had with the United States during the last few weeks.

In commenting on the Mexican situation, the former Huntington county man said:

"The only way that Mexico can ever be restored to a peaceable state is for the United States to go in and clear the entire country of bandits and establish a protectorate."

He also said that the Mexican farmers and peasants have no protection for their crops. They sometimes get a good harvest ready and an army of bandits will take or destroy it.

When Mr. Hasenfus left Tampico there were large numbers of Mexicans in that locality starving. He said they were a peaceable set of people and disliked to see the American oil men leave because they knew that their departure meant the closing of a camp and the shutting off of supplies. Their existence depended entirely on the supplies obtained from the Americans for work done in the oil fields.

The trip from Vera Cruz to Galveston, Tex., was made on an oil tank steamer. There were on board the steamer a little more than 1,000 refugees who had hurried to get out of Mexico. The small ship was so crowded that the passengers were compelled to sleep on the decks and at any place they could find. The trip took six days because of quarantine and other difficulties which occurred after leaving Vera Cruz.

In an effort to make a little "easy money," the owners of the vessel charged the passengers $1 for sandwiches and fifty cents for a cup of coffee. There were several wealthy men on board and they had to get in line at meal time the same as any of the other passengers.

When the Americans arrived at Galveston they were completely worn out and almost as starved as the Mexicans they had left behind. Practically every one of them rushed for dairy lunches and restaurants to get a "good square meal." The clothing stores in Galveston also had a rush in business immediately on the arrival of the oil steamer carrying the 1,000 or more Americans.

Mr. Hasenfus came to Huntington soon after arriving in Galveston. He stopped here long enough to see his relatives and then went to New York in connection with his business affairs. He said, before leaving, that he thought he would be able to return to Mexico before long because of the way the relations between the two countries have begun to clear.

The Huntington county man left property at Tampico and the company he worked for has about 10,000 acres of oil land as well as other property at that place which is left almost without protection. About twenty-five Americans remained, though they would be of little protection to the property should the Mexicans become hostile toward the United States.

"Though the Mexicans of Tampico and territory near there are peaceable and have shown little hatred for Americans, they are easily excited and would fight rather than permit the United States to establish an army in their country," said the oil man. "They are also an easy-going race of people, never thinking much of the future. For example, when

MILROY IS DRESSED UP FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Rushville Persons Attending Opening

Sessions Say Town is in Gala

Milroy is in gala attire for the annual chautauqua, which opened last Saturday afternoon. Every house and business store in the city is decorated, greatly to the admiration of visitors, showing that the people of Milroy are wide awake to the advantages of the chautauqua. Many from this city attended the opening sessions and the programs of Sunday.

The Sunday attendance was the largest the chautauqua ever enjoyed and the programs were said to have been up to the standard of those offered anywhere. Yesterday afternoon's program included a concert by the Elmer Crawford Adams company of Boston and a lecture by Robert Riemann on the subject "Music, Its Yesterdays and Tomorrows."

Last night's program consisted of a prelude by the Adams company and the presentation of the play, "Mary Magdalene," by the Boston Comedy Players. The musical program was varied by Mr. Adams playing any selection on the violin asked for by the audience.
